GERMANY'S AVALANCHE OF TROOPS BEATS IN VAIN AGAINST THE TENACIOUS LINES OF THE BRITISH

AS THE OLD GUARD AT WATERLOO PERISHED AGAINST THE BRISTLING SQUARES OF WELLINGTON, WAVE AFTER WAVE OF GERMAN INFANTRY IS HURLED TO DEATH AGAINST THE GRIM UNYIELDING LINES OF THE BRITISH.

KAISER'S DREAM OF WORLD DOMINATION HOURLY WANES AS FATE PUTS SEAL OF DISAPPROVAL ON MADNESS OF WAR LORDS

DRY AND FAVORABLE WEATHER CONDITIONS AID ENEMY IN PONDEROUS ATTACKS AND HEAVY TROOP AND ARTILLERY MOVEMENTS.

ONLY AT ONE POINT WAS ANY IMPRESSION MADE ON THE UNWAVERING LINE OF GREAT BRITAIN'S TROOPS.

GREAT EVENTS IMPENDING FORETELL CHANGE IN TIDE OF BATTLE FOR ALLIES

AIRMEN TAKE HEAVY TOLL FROM OUT THE DENSE MASSES OF GERMAN TROOPS.

Although still giving ground at points before the desperate German drive, the British and French armies engaged in the great battle are preserving their united front intact and apparently awaiting the opportune moment for the delivery of a counter blow to dispel the German dream of world domination.

Big events are impending in the immediate future, at any rate, and the advices from the front indicate these are expected to develop favorably to the allies, probably within a few hours.

MAGNIFICENT BRITISH RESISTANCE

London, March 26.—(Associated Press Cable)—The tenacity of the British resistance, the prisoners say, exceeded anything the Germans deemed possible. They complain of great privations on account of lack of supplies and extreme weariness is telling heavily. Owing to the dense masses of supporting troops, however, the enemy is able to replenish his forward line with fresh units. The weather remains dry, thus favoring the enemy.

Yesterday was the supreme day for the British gunners, says the correspondent. Attacking from north of Nervillers to the point of British contact with the French the Germans were held up nearly everywhere by the British artillery fire.

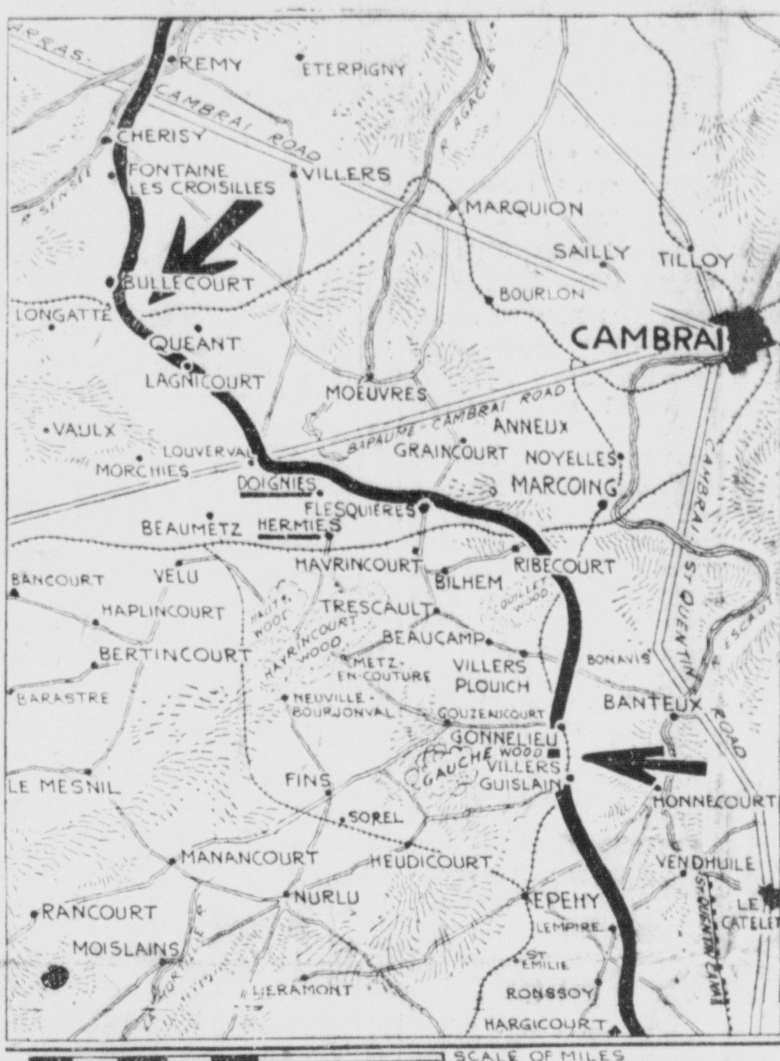

Masses of enemy troops coming forward in waves again and again attempting to reach their objectives, met with the same fate as the old guard at Waterloo. In only one sector near Sapignies did they succeed in bending back the British front. It was to conform the front with this indentation that the British fell back during the night, straightening their line.

GUN SIGHTS OPEN

Reports from all along the front indicate that the German loss of life yesterday was heavy. The enemy advanced against allied gunners who were firing with open sights.

Last night their airmen took heavy toll from the German masses. No official figures are at hand but from compilation made personally the correspondent is convinced at least 130 German airplanes have been brought down in the last five days.

ATTACK ON CAMBRAI FRONT

The apparent objective of Germany's offensive in the great drive in France was the elimination of the Flesquieres (or Cambrai) salient held by the British, and restoration of the old Hindenburg line. Converging attacks were directed against both ends of the base of the wedge, as indicated on the map by the arrows. The map also shows the town of Doignies, at the intersection of the battle line and the Bapaume-Cambrai highway, which has been retaken by the British in a counter-attack.

AWFUL LOSS WEAKENS ALL WEST FRONT OF GERMANS

British War Office Announces that Fighting Died Down During Night.

Defenders Take Up New Positions.

(Associated Press Cable) London, March 26.—The fighting died down during the night, the War Office reports.

The British established themselves in new positions east of Roye and Albert.

The Germans this morning began new attacks against the combined French and British forces south of the Somme.

The German losses have been so great that the enemy has been obliged to bring up reinforcements from all parts of western front. The war office has established the fact that more than 70 German divisions (about 840,000 men) have been engaged.

DECIDEDLY IMPROVED

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, March 26.—Information received today by the British military attaché, Major General James D. McLaughlin, is that the situation at the battle front decidedly improved yesterday.

The advices are based on repulse of the Germans to the east bank of the Somme, between Peronne and Morschain.

IMPORTANT CHANGES ARE UNDER WAY

(Associated Press Cable)

British Army Headquarters in France March 26.—There is reason to believe important events will be recorded within the next few hours which may lead to the betterment of the positions of the armies which are stemming the German onslaught.

The enemy is fighting desperately hard against time. On the first day his reserves were reduced to 52 divisions. At the end of the second day some 40 reserve divisions had been put in.

A heavy German attack yesterday about Ervillers was completely smashed by the British artillery fire.

FRENCH HOLD RIVER

(By Associated Press Cable)

Paris, March 26.—The battle continues with the greatest violence and the Germans are making still greater efforts along the whole front between Noyon and Chaumes, the War Office announces.

Noyon was evacuated by the French during the night. The left bank of the Oise is being held firmly by the French.

JERSEY CITY IS SHAKEN BY AN EXPLOSION

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, March 26.—An explosion in a four story building in Jersey City this afternoon virtually demolished the big structure and spread destruction throughout that part of New Jersey. Windows were shattered for a radius of one mile.

The huge structure, standing at Henderson and Thirteenth streets, was used as a munitions warehouse. It is believed, as frequent explosions of minor violence are still occurring. It is believed there has been loss of life.

The Jarvis Stores, occupying two blocks, were almost wrecked by the explosion.

The warehouse is burning furiously.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, March 26.—The city was shaken and alarmed by three or four violent explosions at 3:06 o'clock this afternoon. The sounds came from New Jersey.

The explosions continued rapidly. A column of smoke was observed rising in Jersey City.

Flames shot up with the smoke high enough to be visible over the tops of buildings.

As far as could be seen the explosions were occurring in railroad freight yards on the Jersey water front. They were presumably caused by ignition of war materials.

The smoke and flames rose from docks next to the Erie Railroad ferry, where steamships loaded with ammunition were lying. At 3:15 o'clock the explosions had ceased.

INFORMAL REPORT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, March 26.—An informal report reaching the War Department from Governor's Island said the explosion and fire seemed in the vicinity of the Erie railroad terminals.

NEW YORK SHAKEN

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, March 26.—Thousands of people in New York rushed into the streets fearing a catastrophe like the "Black Tom" explosion here two years ago.

The detonations were not so violent as on that occasion.

Roofs of New York sky scrapers were quickly crowded with people watching the fire.

The early reports from Jersey City were that several freight cars loaded with ammunition had blown up and that a number of buildings had been destroyed or were on fire.

One of the first pictures of the American troops in a rest center which they have access to after a tour in the trenches. They dub the recreation centers as "Blighty" because the pleasures are a striking contrast to trench work. The boys certainly look "fit" after a tour of duty among the big shells.

BATTLE ON IN UKRAINE

Bolsheviks Reported to Have Retaken City of Kherson.

(By Associated Press Cable)

London, March 26.—Resumption of fighting in Ukraine between the Germans and the Bolsheviks is reported in Petrograd dispatches.

The Bolsheviks are said to have retaken the city of Kherson and also Nikolaiev, while the Germans have occupied Kremenchug.

Notwithstanding the peace treaty between Russia and the Central Powers there has been fighting recently in Ukraine which has been overrun by German troops on the pretense that it was necessary to put down lawless bands.

MYSTERY GUN NOW CONCEDED BIG SURPRISE

(Associated Press Cable.)

London, March 26.—In the "mystery gun," the name generally given to the weapon with which the Germans are bombarding Paris from a distance of 75 miles, it is frankly conceded the enemy has sprung one of the greatest surprises of the war.

DOWN TO WORK

(By Associated Press Cable)

Washington, March 26.—Stirred by the menace of the great German offensive the Senate spent today's debate almost entirely on subjects connected with the war and heard Senator Lodge of Massachusetts deliver a denunciation of the delays which have prevented greater forces from the United States being placed beside those of the allies in the critical hour.

Senator New, Republican, of Indiana, declared that instead of 12,000 combat airplanes being delivered in France by July first as provided in the original program the number will amount to only 37.

THREE YEARS IS GIVEN SCOFFER

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Camp Sherman, March 26.—On charges of calling President Wilson a "bum" and a capitalist and manifesting pronounced German tendencies, Private Harry Schrand, of Truck Co. 342 here, whose home is in Cincinnati, was sentenced to three years at hard labor at Fort Leavenworth and dishonorably discharged from the service by a general court martial.

The sentence imposed is the stiffest handed down by a court martial here.

MAKING PROGRESS FOR BIG AUCTION

The work of soliciting for the big Red Cross auction to be held at Jeffersonville on Saturday, April 6th, is being pushed throughout Jeffersonville and Jefferson township, and every home has either been visited or will be visited before the drive for the auction is at an end.

There is every indication that many persons from this city will attend the auction and help make it a success. The women of Jeffersonville are making the house to house canvass in Jeffersonville.

It is expected that the sale will bring in $3,000 for the Red Cross.

SEARS-NICHOLS CO. MAKES CHANGES AT CANNING FACTORY

Preparing to Handle an Increased Amount of Corn, Peas, Tomatoes, Etc., to Meet Demands—New Warehouse Is Included in the Improvements

Extensive improvements on the Sears-Nichols canning factory to accommodate an expected enormous increase in acreage.

New concrete floors are being constructed on the ground floor and second story of the large packing room, a new ware room 30 by 90 feet is in the process of construction, a new boiler will be added and the engine room will be otherwise improved.

A new pea shelling machine also will be installed. The interior of the factory will be gone over so as to make it as sanitary as possible and to insure better working conditions for the employees.

It is possible that other improvements will be made that will make the large factory, already one of the best of its kind in the state, more able to handle the agricultural products of this district.

The improvements and enlargements are to increase the output of the plant to meet increased demands for canned corn, peas, tomatoes and pumpkins.

the direction of British Red Cross, he declared, had aroused the enthusiasm of the whole people of Great Britain, coming as it did, not from the government, but as a result of the generosity of the American people.

Keep Up The Production
Don't let the production lag.
Keep the greatest possible volume of hospital supplies, socks and sweaters moving toward the warehouses.

This notice is given to stimulate work in some chapters which have gotten the impression Red Cross work has been greatly curtailed. There has been no such curtailment.

"Red Cross fields of service and needs for supplies are multiplying instead of decreasing," says Frank E. Abbott, division director of development.

"Chapters should ship their supplies as rapidly as they can complete them. Do not wait to accumulate several cases before shipping. Sending them along a case at a time."

ORDERS COME IN FOR PENNSY SEED CORN NOW ON WAY

Following up promptly the preliminary arrangements made by the Fair Board to secure a care of seed corn for local farmers, the men back of the movement have received the necessary agreement blanks from the office of Mr. Clark S. Wheeler, Director Agricultural Extension service of Columbus and sample applications for use by farmers who want government tested and inspected seed corn.

Mr. Walter McCoy writes concerning some of the corn that it has tested 97 percent.

Commission has in view quite a quantity of corn in Pennsylvania which is being subjected to rigid tests.

Among the many rigid tests to which this seed corn is subjected is one made of each car load while the car is in transit and of the result of which the county agricultural agent is notified before the arrival of the corn at destination. All seed corn is expected to test at least 80 per cent.

Should the test in transit prove unsatisfactory the car is sold for grain and a new car substituted.

The government takes no chances on getting inferior seed corn to the farmers.

Agreements and all will be forwarded at once. But greater speed has been sought by wire. Already about 150 bushels have been spoken for by farmers.

SERGEANT STEFFY WILL HAVE CHARGE

In the absence of Capt. Hays, who is on the canoe trip, Sergt. Steffy will have charge of the drill tomorrow night.

The extended order movements will be perfected in this drill.

There has been a great deal of agitation for the formation of companies in Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville, but as yet there has been no action taken in the matter.

WILL RECOVER

Harvey Leach, residing near Sedalia who was seriously injured when a B. & O. freight train struck his automobile in Mt. Sterling, last Friday night, is recovering, and within a short time will be about as usual.

It was feared at first he had suffered a fractured skull, but such was not the case.

COAL ZONES ARE FIXED IN OHIO

The coal zones for distribution of coal in Ohio, have been definitely fixed and announced by the fuel administration, and in each instance short hauls are sought insofar as possible.

The announcement affecting Fayette county and this city, which relates to coal shipped into the state, says: "From Charleston, W. Va., via the Kanawha and Michigan Railway to Athens; thence via the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad through Chillicothe and Washington C. H., to Dayton; thence via the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway to state boundary line and north to and including Williams County, covering Gallia, Meigs, Athens, Vinton, Ross, Fayette, Green, Montgomery and Preble counties and all counties north of the boundary lines described.

STAGGERING COMPLIMENT

"You read in the Bible," declared Billy Sunday in a Washington sermon, "that you must be redeemed. You pass it by, you doubt it, you don't believe it; at least you don't act as if you did.

"Yet, you read a dispatch in your daily newspaper; it's marked 'By The Associated Press' and you take it for Gospel truth, for you know it's so, and have no doubts whatever.

"Why can't you place the same credence in the word of God?"

FARM NOTES

Spray Suggestions

Very few small orchard owner have spraying outfits which are capable of doing a good thorough job, no matter how careful the operator may be.

Some barrel outfits have no agitator. The result is a non-uniform mixture, lack of success, and sometimes tree injury.

Some outfits now on the market are sold with hose but 12 feet long and sometimes only 4. Often there is no extension rod. This combination is practically useless. A man should have 50 or more feet of hose and a good extension rod, preferably of bamboo, 8, 10, or 12 feet long.

Most barrel outfits include small nozzles, usually of the Vermorel type. The use of larger capacity disc nozzles with a 45 degree angle makes the pumping easier and the spraying faster.

An air chamber on a pump tends to equalize the pressure at the nozzle. A pressure gauge lets a man know just how much pressure he has. He isn't guessing.

Every extension rod should have a cut-off at the base of the rod. It saves spray and pressure.

Ordinary garden hose is not strong enough. Regular spray hose should be used.

A barrel outfit which has a horizontal double action pump costs more, but is well worth the price, as it does a better job in less time and at less effort.

The new spray "guns" may be endorsed without reservation when used with high power outfits.

Hens vs. Incubator

At present prices of feed it costs about 5 cents a week to feed a hen. It requires about 12 weeks for a hen to hatch and rear her brood to the age of "weaning." This means a cost of 60 cents per 15 eggs for the hen's time in hatching and raising, to say nothing of the profit she might have made had she been left in the laying flock.

It requires 10 hens to hatch 150 eggs which at 60 cents for each hen means $6.00 for a "150-egg hatch." It requires about 14 gallons of oil at a cost of $1.79 to "incubator hatch" and "brooder rear" the chicks from 150 eggs. This leaves $4.20 as interest on the investment for an incubator and brooder even if the incubator were set but once during the season, and it can be set three or possibly four times.

A hen can be set only when the hen is ready; an incubator, when the eggs are ready. This fact alone means early and profitable chicks. It would seem that an incubator and brooder would be a profitable investment wherever 150 or more eggs are to be incubated during the season.

DR. BRYAN'S REMAINS ARRIVE THIS EVENING

WHEATLESS DAYS FOR THE CHICKENS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Wheat, O., March 26. — Hens the same as the citizens of the whole country, according to the Ohio Experiment Station. It should not be fed, in the first place, because of the scarcity of the cereal, and, secondly, because it is inferior in feeding value to corn.

Even though this country were not suffering a wheat shortage, the experts would advise wheatless days for poultry. From experiments through a period of several years it has been found that egg production decreased as the proportionate quantity of wheat fed increased.

YOUR DUTY IS TO BUY MANY U. S. THRIFT STAMPS

BY J. J. MUNDY.

If your city is falling behind other cities in purchasing War Savings Stamps and Certificates, is not some of the blame due to your failure to meet your share of what is required of you?

In settling the quota for each county $20 per capita was decided upon as the necessary proportion.

Have you purchased, or are you planning to purchase, $20 worth for yourself?

Are you simply negligent, or do you think the requests of the government mean the other fellow and exempts you?

Or, why do you prefer other investments?

And why are you so unwilling to make sacrifices in the curtailment of pleasures and comforts?

No loyal American would admit even to himself that any of the above excuses are true.

On the other hand, the government must have the money, to conduct the war.

It can be raised only by sale of stamps, bonds or indirect taxation. If by taxation it means that you will have to pay your proportionate share of expense and will get no financial return for the money.

The government wishes not to tax any more than is necessary, and so gives you an opportunity to invest your money and small savings at a good rate of interest and in this absolutely safe investment.

Every bond, every War Savings Certificate, every Thrift Stamp, has the backing of the United States government, and the United States government has never failed to honor its stamps or its bonds.

There are certain features which make each in itself a good investment.

If you are not helping your children to earn their quota of $5 worth per child, you are not taking advantage of the most remarkable opportunity to teach thrift which has ever come to the child of any country.

What does your individual comfort and enjoyment amount to when you consider giving your government a fair deal?

Get into the greatest game the American, or any other nation, ever played to win the war, and learn to save and invest at good interest all at the same time.

The State Fair

The suggestion has been made that this year, in the interest of conservation of public and private money, we have no annual state fair.

Fortunately the suggestion does not come from a very authoritative source. So far it is merely one of the many suggestions thoughtlessly made, we feel, by those who have good intentions but fail to realize clearly the difference between true and false economy—economy that really saves and contributes to the nation's cause and mere saving which, in fact takes away from the nation's power in the long run.

The call now upon the farmers and the stock raisers of the state is more urgent than upon any other class of citizens, and the farmers now, as never before, need the advice and counsel of each other and the information, obtainable only at these great gatherings.

In addition to that, our state fair doesn't cost the people anything. It more than pays its way. The people who go to school at the fairs pay their tuition fees at the gates. Last year the state fair turned a surplus of nearly twenty-three thousand dollars into the state treasury and the state fair this year has that much of a credit balance.

There is more to learn now at the fairs than ever before and more need to learn. It would be a grave mistake to do away with the state fair or the local fairs either.

Only a day or two ago our local fair board arranged for more than six hundred bushels of seed corn at cost—five dollars—for our farmers. That saving in first cost and guaranteed seed is enough to pay for the local fair. The state fair operates the same way, only on a larger scale.

By all means have the fairs. They are not a place of amusement. They are places of learning—vital necessity.

Progress by War

It seems almost brutal to undertake to specify any one particular good which this awful war has brought to humanity, and yet we, all of us Christian people, believe that it is but part of a great purpose which has for its aim the good of mankind. When we believe that, as we must, we must look backward and forward through the centuries and must contemplate men in the aggregate, forgetting, if we can, the frightful individual suffering and the havoc it has wrought, allowing also national identity to be merged in the one great universal family of men, we get a different idea.

If we permit our viewpoint of the awful tragedy to be narrowed to the individual suffering or even to the woes of the present generation it is almost, if not quite, impossible to see any good purpose. Too often in these moments of sorrow and suffering our very limited human vision cannot see beyond the present and is forgetful of the past.

Reforms in governmental affairs have come, almost unnoticed in these times and more are coming rapidly—reforms which would not have been possible in times of peace have been made vitally necessary by war.

Progress has been made, too, in construction work which would not have been made in centuries of peace.

Abundant proof is not lacking that the world is making progress, that the cruel monster of war, with bloody fists, is beating and scourging the race on toward the ultimate goal faster and faster. The necessity of war has made the bridging of many gulfs considered impossible, but a matter of course incident in war.

Generations to come will reap the benefits of the progress being made now under the awful necessity of war.

The Change of Time

This is a wonderful time for saving and conserving in every line.

Now we are going to save daylight. That sounds strange at first, but it is simple enough when we understand it. The days are longer now—we have more daylight and the saving of daylight is done by starting to work earlier in the morning and quitting work earlier in the evening. That takes an hour off of our present "night season" and puts it on the daylight time.

Now that isn't as difficult as it might seem at first. In fact it's not difficult at all.

We accomplish the result by fooling ourselves. Saturday night at eight o'clock every watch and clock is going to be moved forward just one hour. Then when we wake up Sunday morning we'll go right along on the new time. As Colonel Roosevelt would say: "Could anything be more perfectly simple than that?"

We may find ourselves getting up a little late Sunday morning, but that's not important, and Monday morning we will never realize that we have changed time on ourselves.

There need be no calculating about this, that, and the other thing. If we just go along by our watches and clocks as usual there can be not the least confusion.

Poetry For Today

KEEP A BRAVE HEART.

There's nothing like facing the world with a smile
When the conflict is fierce and severe;
There's nothing like bearing in mind
all the while
That confidence casteth out fear.
When dark days and gloomy are part of your lot,
And skies with black storm clouds
are rife,
You know that behind silver linings
we find.
So keep a brave heart in the strife.

The motto for fighters is "Never give in."
When you know you are striving for right;
By stout-hearted struggle the victory
wins.
And stand in the power of your might.
If days were all sunshine we'd long for the rain.
That wakens the rootlets to life;
Sunshine and showers bring forth the gay flowers.
So keep a brave heart in the strife.
—Tid Bits.

MAIN COMMITTEE TO MEET TONIGHT

The directing committee of the Fayette County War Work Council will meet tonight at seven o'clock for the purpose of deciding the amount of the War Chest to be raised in this county in the near future, and to select the date of the drive to be made for the war chest.

These two matters will be first decided, after which the work of planning the details of the drive will be worked out and then all arrangements completed as speedily as possible so that the work may go through without a halt, and be an unbounded success. The meeting tonight will be held in the office of the Council in the court house, and every member of the directing committee is expected to be on hand.

EXCERPTS FROM RAINBOW REVEILLE

The following excerpts are from the Rainbow Reveille of February 27th, published in France:

Sharpnel and Sunbeams
"History tells us that George Washington was a man who never told a lie and a good soldier as well. Even so, we'll wager several centuries that George started a rumor or two in his day of valleyforging."

These French valentines are truly martial. Instead of cupid's arrow piercing the two hearts, the little love god has 'em all broken up with a hand grenade.

One excuse for those long cigarette-holders is that they keep the fire from burning the upper lip camouflage.

Lastly, comrades, we are coming to the opinion that Boche is bosh.

WASHINGTON BOY IN HIGH PLACE AT TRAINING CAMP

Camp Greenleaf is to have a big dental college within the next thirty days.

Lieut.-Col. J. H. Snapp, former Washington C. H. boy, son of Fred Snapp, now a resident of Columbus, who will be senior instructor of the new organization arrived at Camp Greenleaf one week ago, from Camp Upton, New York. He states that the first consignment of from thirty to forty dental instructors will reach Camp Greenleaf within a few days. These dentists will take intensive military training for thirty days, and the most proficient will be retained for the faculty of the approaching college.

Dentists for Million Men.

As soon as the instructors are selected, the college will be opened to give two months courses in advanced dentistry to two classes of eighty men each. The idea behind this specific number of 160 dentists every two months is to produce 1,000 dentists per year, which will be a sufficient number to treat an army of 1,000,000 men.

The course at the Greenleaf Dental college will be a sort of post-course for civilian dentists, and will teach the very latest procedures in dentistry. One particular object will be to eliminate, as far as possible focal infections from the mouths of the soldiers. Such infections have recently been found to be a predisposing factor in much of the sickness in the army.

Lieut. Col. Snapp, senior instructor, comes to Fort Oglethorpe from Camp Upton, L. I., New York, where he has just established a dental dispensary for that camp. Colon. Snapp has been in the army service as a dental surgeon for eight years. He graduated from the Ohio State university and has seen foreign service in Panama and Porto Rico.

HELD TO GRAND JURY ON ASSAULT CHARGE

In the trial of the case of Wm. Jamison against Ben Jamison, charged with assault with intent to kill, the defendant was bound over to the grand jury under $300 bond, which he furnished.

It is alleged that the defendant struck the plaintiff with some weapon and with his fist and also threatened to kill him. The hearing was held before Mayor Dahl.

H. H. Sanderson represented the plaintiff and J. D. Post the defendant. The trouble between the two men occurred in this city sometime ago. The plaintiff resides in Springfield, Ohio.

TOMORROW—CARLYLE BLACKWELL in "THE GOOD FOR NOTHING."

MARKED INCREASE IN INTEREST TAKEN IN CHURCH SERVICES

The meeting at the First Baptist church, Monday night was a good beginning for the second week of Pre-Easter services. After the inspiring singing, led by the chorus choir, the pastor preached impressively from Isaiah 61:1-8 on the topic, "The Call of the Heights to Holy Services."

The spirit of conviction to heed the call of God was very evident, for when the pastor gave the invitation for all who felt their need to come forward, church members responded in large numbers. Heads were bowed in profound silent prayer and confession. The beautiful hymn "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung softly and audibly prayer was offered.

The meeting tonight gives prospect of great interest and results. The sermon will be by Rev. W. Leo Brown, the talented pastor of the First Baptist Church of Greenfield.

It will be Women's Night. The three missionary societies, the Women's Circle, the World Wide Guild of Young Ladies, and the Path Finders, composed of young girls will occupy reserved seats. Everybody is invited.

From 7:30 to 7:45 song service led by the chorus choir, come early.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
A large audience greeted Rev. J. T. Brittain, D. D. of the Central Presbyterian Church of Columbus at the 1st Presbyterian Church. Dr. Brittain with his usual charm of manner discussed the failure of earthly government, and their manifest incompetency, and urged all to prepare for the coming of the King, who should rule in righteousness.

The service tonight will be of special interest. The crisis of the battle is upon us. The destiny of civilization now hangs in the balance. Our only hope is in God. He alone can save and protect us. Hence all patriots; all with friends and relatives in the war; all who believe in prayer, and the power of it are asked to meet tonight for a service of Prayer For The Soldiers and The War. Rev. W. C. Munson who has been the Army Camp pastor at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe will be present and conduct the service, speaking out of his experiences there.

Tomorrow night will be Young People's night. Presbyterianism's youngest pastor, Rev. L. V. Harvison, of Kingston will be present. All Sunday School scholars are to be there and Mr. Harvison will present bouquet to the class with the largest proportional representation.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL

Rev. J. C. Jackson, D. D., District Superintendent preached last evening on the text "Restore Unto Me the Joy of Thy Salvation."

He declared: "A religious joy which has no scriptural basis is false and is not permanent. Righteousness and uprightness must constitute the sure basis for real joy. Christians are to be living epistles to men."

Last evening a delegation from the Millwood Group attended in a body. Mrs. J. da Jones' Sunday School class were in attendance as a class. The Men's Class was present in large numbers.

The pastor wants the people to feel free to come and go as necessity requires. He thinks it is better to be in the service 15 minutes than not at all.

Today, Wednesday or Thursday each group is asked to meet for an hour for prayer and planning at the time and place announced by each group chairman. The presence of the boys and girls and young people as well as the older people is especially desired at these last few Pre-Easter Services.

FLAG SHIP SNAGGED FLEET PASSES ON

The fleet of canoes that left yesterday for a trip to Portsmouth is temporarily without an "Admiral." The "admiral" telephoned to the "Y" last night and told of his predicament and stated that to the best of his knowledge the rest of the fellows were in high spirits and expected to reach Portsmouth on scheduled time.

THE REASON FOR SECRECY ANNOUNCED

General March Tells Public Why Detailed Information as to Wounded Is Omitted.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, March 26.—An official statement of the War Department's reason for announcing only the names of American troops killed or wounded in France was submitted to the Senate today by Major General March, acting chief of staff.

With a statement that the Department considers it of best advantage from all points of view, General March said the old system of addresses and other details gave information to the enemy and brought swarms of claim agents to harass the relatives of the men.

The policy of the War Department, he told the Senate, is to put in the hands of the nearest relatives given by the soldiers in his emergency address, prompt and accurate information concerning the casualties before anything is given to the press and to prevent any information appearing in

BRITISH EXACT TERRIBLE TOLL FOR EVERY FOOT OF WITHDRAWAL

(Associated Press Correspondence)
London, March 26.—Exacting the heaviest toll for every foot of ground the British lines continue to withdraw slowly before the pressure of the German masses, Reuters' correspondent at British headquarters wires.

Over a large part of the battle zone the retirement is being made voluntarily so as to maintain an unbroken front. Prisoners say the advance of the Germans is behind their schedule.

CINCINNATI IS A BOXING EXPERT

Camp Sheridan, Alabama, March 26.—A Jew on the staff of the Y. M. C. A.!

Sounds queer, doesn't it? But it's been perfectly true all winter in the case of Morris Isaacs of Cincinnati, who has been serving as a boxing instructor and general athletic director for the Army Y. M. C. A. at Camp Sheridan. It demonstrates how democratic an army camp social service and religious agency such as the Red Triangle can be.

Morris Isaacs is well known in Cincinnati and Ohio. He is fifty-seven years old and as deaf as a post, but he can "square his dukes" with any fellow in the camp. He has been a lover of the boxing game for many years and it was due to his knowledge of boxing as a builder of physical man that gave Morris Isaacs the wonderful pride he must feel today when he looks at his son, Captain Stanley Isaacs of the Ohio National Guard Army. For Isaacs, Jr., was a puny, sickly youngster and his father spent years in building him into one of the finest physical specimens in the whole encampment.

And then when the boy became an officer his father couldn't stand to be away from him—and he asked to be taken on the Y. M. C. A. staff at Camp Sheridan.

TEUTONIC UPSET IS THE PREDICTION OF GENERAL WOOD

Washington, March 26.—In a confidential statement before the senate military committee, Major General Leonard Wood declared that allied military operation is unanimous that the German offensive will fail and urged a great increase in the American army.

General Wood returned recently from a visit to the western battle front.

It was General Wood's opinion, according to his auditors, that the Germans on the western front now are numerically superior, both on the ground and in the air, but that the allies are in a better position. While confident that the German offensive will be halted before the enemy has gained any material objectives, General Wood suggested that the offensive may change the warfare into a more open contest. For that reason he recommended the training of American forces for open warfare as well as for trench fighting.

Stating that the French are disappointed in the size of the American army this far sent to Europe, according to committee members, the general recommended immediate steps to increase both the American expeditionary forces and the army in training in this country.

Chairman Chamberlain said General Wood recommended that an army of 2,500,000 men be maintained in France at the earliest possible moment and 2,500,000 more be maintained in training at home.

In urging that the American war program of men, ships and munitions be speeded up and increased, General Wood said 50 American artillery or airplanes are yet available to General Pershing's men and that, although 1,000 American aviators are ready they are without planes. Use of Liberty motors in bombing instead of fighting machines also was recommended by General Wood.

Commenting on the German offensive, General Wood, according to members of the committee, said that, although the initial success of the Germans probably had been greater than expected either by the allies or the enemy, judged by the number of British guns reported captured, he and allied officers believed the drive will be short lived. There is no possibility, he said, of the Germans attaining their apparent objective, the channel ports, or threatening Paris.

OHIO MEN DEAD IN MANLEY LOSS

Washington, March 26.—Vice Admiral Sims cabled the navy department that, in addition to 17 dead, 17 men are missing from the American destroyer Manley, as a result of her recent collision with a British war ship and the consequent explosion of a depth bomb on board. Two Ohioans are listed among the dead and two among the missing.

Of the dead, Lieutenant Richard McClellan, the commanding officer, 33 14 enlisted men, have been identified, and two enlisted men have not been identified. Six men were seriously injured and 16 slightly injured.

The following names of the dead, in addition to those previously reported, were given in the dispatch: Richard Burke, chief water tender, Chelsea, Mass.; Timothy M. Corcoran, seaman, Cambridge, Mass.; Nichols M. Dreja, machinist's mate, Chicago; George C. Hartman, electrician, Columbus, Neb.; Charles H. DELCO-LIGHT Increases Farm Efficiency

- Saves time and labor—Work formerly done under poor light and by hand can be done better and in less time with the aid of electric light and power.
- Labor is attracted to the farm—The "back to the farm" movement is made practical when the conveniences afforded by electric light and power can be had in the country.
- Keeps the boys and girls on the farm—Electric service on the farm offsets city attractions. Valuable labor and valuable young manhood and womanhood are saved to the country community.
- Solves the retired farmer problem—Electric light and power make the farm home so attractive and comfortable that the farmer and his wife remain on the farm where their advice, experience, and immediate interests are of great practical value.
- Lightens burden of the housewife—Increased farm work in war times means increased labor for the housewife. Electricity offers the only practical means of taking the drudgery of household tasks from her shoulders.

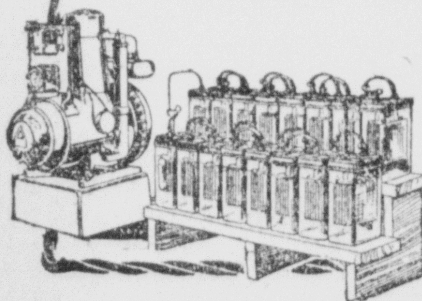

Delco-Light is a compact electric plant for farms or country houses. Self-cranking. Air-cooled. Thick plate, long-lived battery. Ball bearings. No belts. RUNS ON KEROSENE
